

6-Minute Messages for Children

Copyright © 1993 Donald Hinchey

All rights reserved. No part of this book may be reproduced in any manner whatsoever without written permission from the publisher, except where noted in the text and in the case of brief quotations embodied in critical articles and reviews. For information write Permissions, Group Publishing, Inc., Dept. BK, Box 481, Loveland, CO 80539.

Credits

Edited by Jennifer Root Wilger and Lois Keffer Interior designed by Dori Walker Cover designed by Liz Howe Cover illustrated by Peter Pohle

Except where otherwise noted, Scriptures are quoted from The Youth Bible, New Century Version, copyright © 1991 Word Publishing, Dallas, Texas 75039. Used by permission.

Library of Congress Cataloging-in-Publication Data

Hinchey, Donald, 1943-

6-minute messages for children / by Donald Hinchey.

p. cm.

ISBN 1-55945-170-X

1. Children's sermons. I. Title. II. Title: Six-minute messages for children. BV4315.H514 1993 252'.53—dc20

92-42000

CIP

AC

20 19 10 09 08 07 06

Printed in the United States of America

Visit our Web site: www.group.com

Contents

Introduction

The Creator: Messages for Knowing God

- 1. All Clear
- 2. Weaklings
- 3. Unbrella
- 4. Baby Pictures
- 5. Tears
- 6. The Lost Is Found!
- 7. Through Dark Glasses
- 8. Whose Time Is It?
- 9. Autumn Leaves (A Back-to-School Talk)
- 10. We've Got a Friend in High Places
- 11. Why Are You Hiding?
- 12. The Last Laugh
- 13. Crutches

The Christian: Messages for Following Jesus

- 14. Leftovers
- 15. Can You Write With Your Mouth?
- 16. Faith Like a Mustard Seed
- 17. Christian Yo-Yos
- 18. Telephone Prayer
- 19. If Jesus Came to Your House
- 20. The "Follow Me" Obstacle Course
- 21. The Pearl
- 22. Sand Living
- 23. A Good Story
- 24. Fishers of People: A Mime
- 25. Lights of the World
- 26. Keys to the Kingdom
- 27. A Bag Full of Goodies
- 28. The Fort
- 29. The Good Sheep Dog

- 30. Make the Weak Hands Strong
- 31. Move Up Higher
- 32. The Greatest Job in the World
- 33. The Leap of Faith

The Church: Messages for Life Together

- 34. Intertwined
- 35. An Interview With a Foot
- 36. The Church Band
- 37. Keep It Up
- 38. What Do You Do With This Beautiful Book?
- 39. Bubbles
- 40. The Book of Hope
- 41. What Are the Ten Commandments Like?
- 42. Our Father Who Art in Heaven
- 43. Hallowed Be Thy Name
- 44. Thy Kingdom Come, Thy Will Be Done
- 45. Daily Bread
- 46. Forgive Us Our Trespasses
- 47. Lead Us Not Into Temptation
- 48. The Kingdom, Power, and Glory Wave
- 49. Where Does All The Money Go?
- 50. Caution: Stewards at Work
- 51. Back to Back (A Children's Message for a Wedding)
- 52. Love Is Like a Flowing Stream (A Children's Message for a Wedding)

Introduction

The great Swiss thinker Karl Barth will long be remembered for his many volumes of careful and complicated theology. Late in his life, when Barth was asked for a simple summary of his theology, he allegedly smiled and responded, "Jesus loves me. This I know. For the Bible tells me so."

The deepest truths of the Christian faith shine their brightest when they're presented plainly and simply. Jesus uses mustard seeds, shepherds and housewives, and the simple faith of children as models for life in the kingdom of God.

This sequel to 5-Minute Messages for Children attempts to follow Jesus' example by presenting life in the kingdom of God in the most simple and active ways. Rather than requiring children to study the truths of the faith, these messages lead children (and eavesdropping adults) to experience and apply those truths to their lives.

Why Children's Messages?

Churches and other faith communities that regularly include children's messages in their worship and teaching hours have found that this brief time spent at eye level with God's little ones brings immense rewards:

- Children learn and grow! Children don't always learn the same way adults learn. Children's messages can teach important truths in ways kids understand.
- Children are affirmed. By setting aside five or six minutes to speak to our children, we let them know they're valued. Every children's message says implicitly, "You know, you kids are pretty important. We think you're great!"
- The gospel takes on new meaning. Children's messages challenge us to reshape and re-present the "old, old story" in a new package. Even adults will be refreshed.

Tips for Giving Children's Messages

Be Creative. The messages in this book aren't meant to be read. They invite creative innovation. Let them serve as catalysts for your own ideas. Don't be afraid to try new things. The children will forgive your failures and applaud your successes.

Prepare Well. Gather any necessary supplies beforehand and place them within easy reach. Mentally preview the message so you'll be able to anticipate children's responses—they may not always give you the answers you expect!

Get Down. Sit on the floor and look the children in the eye. Children's messages delivered by a big, standing adult can make children feel like they're being talked down to.

Speak Up. Use a microphone so the whole congregation can hear you.

Use Your Bible. Read the text for each message from your Bible. Encourage children and parents in your congregation to look up the text in their own Bibles at home.

Have Fun. You're sharing the good news! If you're enthusiastic with the children, the rest of the congregation will share in the excitement.

God bless you and your congregation as you embark on your adventure.

Theme: Forgiveness

Bible Text: [The Lord says,] "I, I am the One who forgives all your sins, for my sake; I will not remember your sins" (Isaiah 43:25).

Preparation: You'll need five to seven hand-held calculators.

The Message:

oes anyone recognize this little machine? Hold up a calculator and allow kids to respond. That's right, this is a calculator. The calculator is a fantastic invention. You can use a calculator to add and subtract without counting on your fingers. Some friends have lent me their calculators for our message today. Does anyone here know how to work a calculator?

Several of the older children will hold up their hands. Invite them to take a calculator. Keep one for yourself and complete the following addition problems with the children.

Let's see if we can do some addition with these calculators. If you don't have a calculator, look on with a friend. Pause while kids scoot together. Let's add 3 + 3 + 4 + 4 + 5 + 6 + 7. Say the numbers slowly so kids can enter them as you speak. What did you get? 32! That's what I got, too. Isn't this great?

How about 2 + 3 + 4 + 5 + 6 + 7 + 8? What did you get this time? 35! Me too. Calculators make adding so simple.

Now let's add 7 + 9 + 4 + 6. What did you get? Kids will probably say "26." You got 26? Oh my, I must have added wrong. I got 25. Here, I'll just push the "clear" button. Now I'll add it again. Yep. You're right. It is 26.

That little clear button is one of my favorite things about calculators. If you make a mistake, it just clears the screen and you can start all over again.

Read the text. The Bible says that God is the one who forgives all our sins. After we're forgiven, God won't even remember our sins. It's like God has a clear button for each one of us, and with just a touch of his finger, all our sins are gone forever.

Of course, we know it wasn't that simple. God sent his son Jesus to die for us, and that cost him a great deal. But because of Jesus' death and resurrection, all our sins are forgiven. God has wiped them away—just like I cleared my mistake on this calculator. We can start all over and never have to worry about the sins of the past.

Please return the calculators. Thank you for helping me today.

Theme: God's grace

Bible Text: But he said to me, "My grace is enough for you. When you are weak, my power is made perfect in you" (2 Corinthians 12:9a).

Preparation: You'll need a barbell or another object too heavy for a small child to move. Before the service, place the barbell in the center of the space where the children gather.

The Message:

mm! Someone has left this barbell right in our way. I do wish people wouldn't leave things laying around on the floor! Choose a small, young child. (Name of child), would you please move this barbell for us?

No matter how much the child tugs or pushes, he or she won't be able to move the object. After several tries, ask the child to come sit beside you.

Why can't (name) move this barbell? Let children respond. Most will say the child is too small. That's right. Children aren't strong enough to move heavy barbells. I shouldn't have asked (name) to move something that was too heavy. Let's all give (name) a big hand for trying to move the barbell!

We all try to do things that are too hard for us. No matter how hard we try to be good, we still do wrong things sometimes. But listen to what the Bible says about our weakness. Read the text. When we're too weak to be good on our own, God's power can help us. Move the barbell. God sent Jesus to take away our sins. Jesus moved the sin we were too weak to move, and he can help us become strong.

Theme: God's protection

Bible Text: Let me live in your Holy Tent forever. Let me find safety in the shelter of your wings (Psalm 61:4).

Preparation: You'll need two or three umbrellas. A sound-effects album with recorded rain and thunder would be a nice added touch.

The Message:

You've brought a sound-effects album, play it as children come up for the message. How many of you remembered your umbrellas the last time it rained? Let children respond. It seems that whenever I go outside, I always forget to take an umbrella. And then if it rains, I get wet. I brought a few umbrellas today to help us think about shelter and protection. Who'd like to put up an umbrella? Pass out the umbrellas.

Let's all get under an umbrella. Give kids time to huddle under an umbrella.

Umbrellas are so small and simple. You can put an umbrella in your car or briefcase; you can carry an umbrella to school or out to play. Then if it's raining, you stay nice and dry. Umbrellas come in all shapes and sizes—big ones you take to the beach to stay out of the sun or little ones you carry with you in case it rains.

Read the text. Psalm 61 compares God's care and protection to being under a tent. An umbrella is kind of like a tent you can take with you. No matter how hard it rains, we're warm and safe under God's umbrella. Wherever we go, we know we're protected by the umbrella of God's loving care.

Think of God's love as an umbrella, sheltering you from the storms around you. He'll always keep you safe. Collect umbrellas.

THIS IS A SAMPLE The number of pages is limited.

Purchase the item for the complete version.